Meet Our Newer Plan Review Staff

Roger W. Lane III came to PFS with 12 years of experience as a Wisconsin municipal building official/zoning administrator, and seven years experience in industrialized manufacturing. He was no stranger to our Madison staff having served in our Northeast Regional office for four years.

Roger's numerous certifications include:

- * Wisconsin inspector in all residential/commercial disciplines
- * IBC unlimited plan review/inspector
- * Ohio building inspector
- * North Carolina plan review/inspector in all disciplines
- * California QA inspector
- * ICC Building Code Official / Mechanical Code Official / Electrical Code Official / Plumbing Code Official.

Roger and his wife, Elizabeth, have two daughters, Anna who is 2 years old, and Ava, a newborn.

He is a SCUBA diving instructor and enjoys other physically-active hobbies — rock climbing, snow boarding and biking.

Amy Hanson, has an Associates degree in Computer Aided Drafting and Design from ITT Technical College, Greenfield (Milwaukee) WI. Prior to joining the PFS Midwest Staff as a plan reviewer, Amy worked for a utility company drafting and reviewing plans for substations and power lines.

"I enjoy working at PFS in the Plan Review Department," Amy told Encore.

Pottery-making is her hobby, and she enjoys spending time with family and friends.

PFS welcomes Melvy Villa Thuss from Bolivia.

Melvy attended high school at Boliviano Aleman Cardenal Maurer in Sucre, Bolivia.

She received her higher education at Universidad del Valle, Sucre, Bolivia, Centro Boliviano Americano, an institution of foreign language where she mastered English as a second language, and Westech College, Pomona, California where she earned her degree as AutoCAD Technician.

A lover of the arts, Melvy paints landscapes and sunsets, loves music and enjoys reading.

She told Encore, "I really like working for PFS. It has been a wonderful experience and I thank all my coworkers for making me feel like at home."
